Development/Project Director

Brookbanks is seeking an experienced Development / Project Director to lead the growth of our Development Management team working on major development initiatives throughout the UK. The successful candidate is likely to be a chartered professional with extensive experience in senior roles throughout the property development cycle, with particular skills in delivering major commercial/industrial buildings and business park-type developments.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Lead and manage major development projects from inception through to completion.
- Oversee the delivery of commercial and industrial building projects and infrastructure, ensuring they meet financial and non-financial targets.
- Build and lead a sector-focused multi-disciplinary team to deliver a range of projects.
- Develop and maintain a network of contacts to support the expansion of our workload on some of the UK's largest development projects.
- Communicate effectively with client teams, key stakeholders, and local communities.
- Identify and implement operational and value enhancements for development schemes.

CANDIDATE PROFILE:

Significant experience in one of the UK's leading surveying consultancies and/or property development organisations.

- Proven track record of delivering major development projects.
- Strong communication and leadership skills with the ability to build and manage a multi-disciplinary team.
- Extensive network of industry contacts.
- Motivated to challenge the status quo and ensure quality in all aspects of project delivery.

PACKAGE

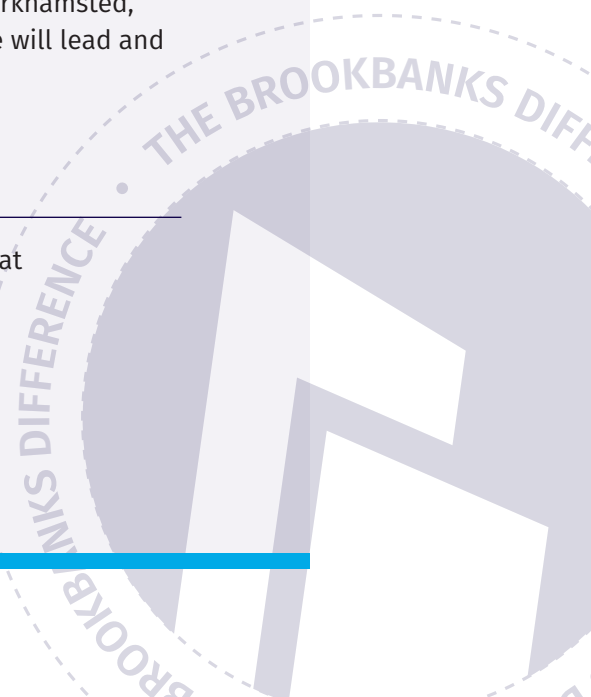

The financial package will be commensurate with experience.

LOCATION

This is a national role across our offices in Birmingham, Bristol, Berkhamsted, Warrington, Bournemouth, and Stansted. The successful candidate will lead and grow our building consultancy services across these locations.

HOW TO APPLY

Please send your CV and Covering Letter to our Recruitment team at recruitment@brookbanks.com
